I. CONSENT AGENDA

The consent calendar includes items which require formal Council action, but which are typically routine or not of great controversy. Individual Council members may ask that any specific item be removed from the consent calendar in order that it is discussed in greater detail. Explanatory information is included in the Council agenda packet regarding these items and any contingencies are part of the approval.

A. APPROVAL OF MINUTES: FEBRUARY 28, 2024 ACTION ITEM

Scott Trospser with the Boise Ridge Riders presented the event checklist for their event. Trospser explained that the course will all be on the East side of the highway and there is no need to be coming through town. Security is established with Boise county Sheriffs, and EMS with EBCAD. Trospser will be supplying checkpoints and maps for EMS and security. Counselor Heffington made a motion, seconded by Adams, to approve the event checklist for the Idaho City 100 May 31 through June 2, 2024. 3 ayes. Motion carried.

C. BILLS/PAYABLES: FEBRUARY 29, 2024 THROUGH MARCH 13, 2024 ACTION ITEM

A. IC SECTION 74-206(A) TO CONSIDER PERSONNEL MATTERS RELATED TO HIRING

Mayor Everhart explained that there was not a need for the executive session.

III. PUBLIC HEARINGS

Items listed as public hearings allow citizen comment on the subject matter before the Council. Residents or visitors wishing to comment upon the item before the Council should follow the procedural steps. In order to testify, individuals must sign up in advance, providing sufficient information to allow the Clerk to properly record their testimony in the official record of the City Council. Hearing procedures call for presentation by the applicant, submission of information from City staff, followed by public testimony. ACTION ITEM

IV. ENGINEER'S REPORT

A. DISCUSSION OF TASK ORDER #1 MERRICK INVOICE ACTION ITEM

Clerk Ptak explained that council had already approved the 96-page engineer owner agreement and the reason this item is on the agenda is because the invoice that was received shows a contract amount that is different than the agreement with a difference of $30,000. In the past a task order was submitted for approval and then payment was made. The assumption is that the contract is one big task order, and they will bill periodically based on work done under the contract. Ptak spoke with the City Attorney, who agrees that a letter needs to be sent to Merrick asking why the change in the total dollar amount on the contract without approval.

V. ORDINANCES AND RESOLUTIONS

Ordinances and resolutions are formal measures considered by the City Council to implement policy which the Council has considered. Resolutions govern internal matters to establish fees and charges pursuant to existing ordinances. Ordinances are laws which govern general public conduct. Certain procedures must be followed in the adoption of both ordinances and resolutions; state law often establishes those requirements. ACTION ITEM

VI. OLD BUSINESS

A. PROPERTY SWAP WITH SECOR

On hold waiting for surveyor and appraisal.

B. IDAHO CITY FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT

There is a special meeting March 20, 2024 at Community Hall for this topic.

VII. NEW BUSINESS

A. COUNCIL TO CONSIDER MAYOR'S RECOMMENDATION FOR CHIEF OF POLICE ACTION ITEM

Mayor Everhart explained that the previous Chief's last day was March 10th. There was only one applicant for the position and that was Brent Watson. Mayor Everhart interviewed Watson and believes he will do a fantastic job. Mayor Everhart added that Watson also had a recommendation from Boise County Sheriff Turner. Sheriff Turner spoke and recommended the City hire Watson as the Police Chief, he believes Watson would be a great fit for the City and that he has the City's best interest at heart. Counselor Secor made a motion, seconded by Adams, to approve Brent Watson as the new Idaho City Chief of Police. 3 ayes. Motion carried. Mayor Everhart added that Watson has been providing requested information weekly, stepped in taken control and moving the police department in the right direction.

VIII. EMPLOYEE UPDATES

A. PUBLIC WORKS

Counselor Secor explained that the last time a sand bay was cleaned the County community service was involved to help. Secor wants to make sure someone is accountable for the community service people because some of them who were supposed to be there did not show up. Mayor Everhart added that he would contact them to inquire.

B. LAW ENFORCEMENT

Watson informed council he tried to get a grant for the speed signs, and it was recommended for him to piggyback on the county's grant. Sheriff Turner explained that the County's grant was approved and when the signs come in they will provide the city with one of them.

Counselor Secor asked to return to Public Works above.

C. CLERK/TREASURER'S OFFICE

1. BUDGET UPDATES

Clerk Ptak informed council there is a new budget report in the packet which can also be emailed in excel spreadsheet form if requested. Ptak added that she needs to meet with the new Police Chief to do some budget revisions. Mayor Everhart added that it is time to start talking about budget workshops. Ptak will have that on the next meeting as an update.

2. WATER AND SEWER UPDATES, ACTION ITEM

Clerk Ptak explained that the list is getting smaller. There were a few seven-day notices sent out.

Clerk Ptak turned it over to Deputy Clerk Goodlett to explain the information in the packet on Lumen & T-Mobile. Goodlett explained that there have been some internet issues at city hall. Speeds are very slow and causing delays. Ptak had contacted CenturyLink (Lumen) to see what service is currently being provided and if it could be improved and upgraded. CenturyLink suggested a fiber connection which runs up Main and also Montgomery. The quote provided would cost the city thousands of dollars to hook up to that service. T-Mobile was contacted to see what service they could provide. Reps came up to check speeds and provide a quote. T-Mobile's quote would potentially provide a savings to the city. That savings would then cover the upfront cost of the phones that would need to be purchased. Discussion on the Lumen quote ensued. Secor added that he was cautious because he had a T-Mobile router and got rid of it because the service was not great. Discussion ensued. Ptak added that T-Mobile previously offered a trial where the city could see if it would work out, and she would check up on that. Discussion on services and contracts ensued.

Ptak added that Goodlett will provide Chief Watson the current dog license owners list and fliers to allow him to do code enforcement going forward.

D. CITY ATTORNEY

IX. COUNCIL UPDATES

Counselor Adams explained that EBCAD is having a fundraiser April 13th at Community Hall for items the ambulance is in need of.

X. MAYOR UPDATES

Mayor Everhart explained that he received a letter from Blue Cross of Idaho. They are offering a free academy that the Mayor and city staffers can attend. At the end of the session each community that participates will meet with Blue Cross of Idaho staff to discuss a program or project that the city would like to launch, and Blue Cross would fund it up to $20,000. Projects would be based around health and fitness. Mayor Everhart had also received a booklet on park equipment that he is going to pass over to the Park & Rec Commission.

CITY OF IDAHO CITY

AGENDA

SPECIAL CITY COUNCIL MEETING

Wednesday, March 20, 2024

6:00 pm

Ray Robison Community Hall, 206 W. Commercial Street, Idaho City, ID 83631

MINUTES

CALL MEETING TO ORDER: Mayor Everhart called the special city council meeting to order at 6:02 PM

ROLL CALL: Clerk Ptak called roll, Heffington, Elliott, Adams, Secor in attendance.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE: Mayor Everhart led the pledge of allegiance.

I. IDAHO CITY FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT DISCUSSION

Mayor Everhart welcomed everyone from the public and explained how things would go so everyone could speak and be heard. Mayor Everhart mentioned a rumor that the city is going to kick the Fire District out of the building, and he expressed how untrue that rumor is. Mayor Everhart explained the purpose of this meeting is to allow the city to present their view of the situation, the Fire District to do the same, and to take input from the public that live in and around the area. Then use all the information to reach an agreement. Mayor Everhart's position on the situation is that he believes it is his responsibility to oversee and take care of the assets the city has. He believes that the facility belongs to the city and knows there is dispute with that. The city is not opposed to the sale of the property, but Everhart is remiss in his responsibility to just give the property away. Mayor Everhart believes that the city and the Fire District can come to an agreement that benefits both parties.

Counselor Secor explained that he would like to listen to the public comments and have discussion as needed. Secor added that he was put out in the beginning when the Fire District was formed because he believes scare tactics were used, that the Fire Department was not going to respond to calls outside the city limits. This was not true at all.

Counselor Adams wanted to listen to the public's input and help come to a resolution.

Counselor Elliott had a prepared statement. Elliott did not want the meeting to be a history lesson or debate. Her opinion is, to ask the taxpayers of the Idaho City Fire District to purchase the firehouse from the taxpayers of Idaho City is robbing Peter to pay Paul. The property is owned by the city of Idaho City and is an asset that the city would probably never sell to anyone but the Fire District. Elliott's suggestion is for the Fire District to purchase the property from the city – not talking about the building. Since it is taxpayer to taxpayer the purchase price should be the assessed amount of the land. When Elliott checked the land value it was $127,000. A land survey would need to be done which would fall to the purchaser. Elliott believes this to be a compromise by both parties in that it is less money than the city wants for the property and also more money than the Fire District wants to offer.

Counselor Heffington wanted to listen to the public's input.

Brent Adamson, Commission Chair of the Fire District, explained when the Fire Department built the building they built it out of a need and they knew the city did not have the funds. Adamson believes the city was grateful for that and has never had any intention of not letting the Fire Department use the building. The problem arose when the District was formed. Adamson added that Elliott raised a positive point that has not been discussed to date, which was thinking of other ways that this situation can be resolved.

Dave Kuwahara, Fire Commissioner for the Idaho City area, explained that he believes everyone is in agreement that they want what is best for the town. His only concern is that the Commissioner, Council, and Mayor are elected positions, and it is possible that in the future there may be someone in that position that is not as open minded on the situation as the current elected officials. Kuwahara added that the district wants to make improvements and expansions on the building but are reluctant to because they do not have ownership. Right now there is no danger with the city, but that could change in the future with newly elected officials. Coming to an agreement would solidify the district's position.

Mayor Everhart was going to read a letter that was submitted, but that individual was present to speak. Mayor Everhart went on to read a comment from John Roberts. "We created a new entity when we created the fire district by popular vote. The city and the fire district have separate but overlapping constituents and taxpayers. The city has long supported many of us who do not pay city taxes, but who travel the city streets and relied on the volunteer fire department for years and years. I suspect this meeting is now an opportunity to decide who owns what and set these separate entities up for the benefit of both. The creation of the new fire district creates a new tax income stream and should reduce the impact on the city, while allowing the fire district to become better and better! Of course a lot of those decisions will be governed by what agreements were made in the past." Mayor Everhart agreed with a lot of the statement and added that everyone has the same goal for the city, community, and entire area, to prosper and improve. The city has no desire to hinder the Fire Department, but also has to look out for the interests of the city.

George Thomas, Fire Commissioner, agreed with what has been said and believes the situation needs to be resolved to allow for the expansion of the Fire District.

Cole Hoyt living outside the city limits explained his background and believes the volunteers who built the building should own it. His concern is that if the city keeps the building will volunteers be lost.

Terry Teeter, Fire Chief, explained that things need to be worked out. The District is trying to get a grant to expand the building, but they cannot because the District does not own the building.

Liz Hastie, living in the city limits, has two members of her family in the Fire Department. Her question is if the ownership of the building is not under contention, and the city is now offering the property, does that solve the issues? Mayor Everhart responded that it goes a long way towards it. This meeting is to bring out that kind of information, and then to allow the city and the commissioners to work out an agreement. There has to be a benefit to both sides. Whether it was grant built or anything else, the city has provided input, and he cannot see giving that away. Mayor Everhart added that he looked into grants that are available where the Fire District could pursue a grant to purchase the property from the city. Then the District would not be out any monies.

Dave Woras, living outside the city limits, used to be an active member of the Fire Department, recalled when the department received the grant and built the building. Woras liked Elliott's idea and believes it should be a compromise on both sides. He did not know or understand the legality of the process. Mayor Everhart responded that the city has spoken with their attorney and the transfer of a property from one entity to another does not require fair market value or advertising. It can be done by both entities getting together and coming to an agreement. City Attorney Callahan added that there would have to be a public hearing prior.

Steve Shay, living outside the city limits, thanked the council and fire department. Shay did not understand why this situation is not considered an investment back into the community rather than a loss. Shay asked if there could be a reduced value based off it being an investment rather than a sale type situation. Could the Fire Department make long term payments?

Lisa London, living in the city limits, did not have a problem with the city giving the property and building to the Fire District. It is only worth anything to the community as the Fire Department. The Fire District does not have the $127000 to purchase the property. Counselor Elliott added that the $127000 number came from her because she used to work in the assessors office. It is not a real number and is not being proposed.

Pete Scarborough, living in the city limits, explained that he has been in the fire service for many years. One thing he believes this discussion needs to think about is what would happen if there were no volunteers. There are studies out there that show what it costs for a paid fire department, and this community does not have it. Everyone needs to support the volunteers and do what is best for everyone.

Dave Martin, living in the city limits, explained that he has been on the council and is a volunteer firefighter. The Fire Department is busier now than they have ever been. Every time the ambulance is called out so is the Fire Department. This situation needs to be resolved. The department needs grant money because they are bursting at the seams. Trucks are parked outside, etc.

Roger Jackson explained that by his memory the city administered the grant and that grant paid for the land. He believes that the city and Fire District need to come to a decision that does not break the Fire Department. Counselor Secor responded that it has never been the cities intent.

Jerry Abbott, living in the city limits, believes that it should be awarded to the Fire Department. If there is money exchanged with the city, those funds should be allocated to infrastructure.

Bob Quarles, living outside the city limits, explained that everything done in this town has been done by volunteers. The Community Hall, and Senior Center were both built on city property and done by volunteers. Quarles believes the Fire Department needs to be given the property and building so they can keep up the good work they have been doing.

Tonia Hansen, living outside the city limits, explained her opinion that the Fire Department is needed. She understands that the city needs money, but the Fire Department should be given the property and building so they can move forward with what they want to do.

Mitchel Tain, on the volunteer Fire Department, explained that he was involved in the construction of the building. Tain added that Roger Jackson was correct in that the city was reimbursed through the grant for the purchase of the property. The Fire Department paid out of the grant, a grant writer, and the city was the administrator of the funds. Tain added that before the Fire District was formed, Mayor Obland shut down everything the Fire Department could respond to except for Idaho City. Counselor Secor responded that was false. He was on the council at that time and that was never said. Discussion on Obland charging other areas for fire service ensued. Tain wants a resolution to the situation so the Fire Department can move forward and expand. Mayor Everhart explained the scare tactics that have been mentioned. The Mayor at that time (Obland) was doing things without the involvement of the Council and he was recalled. The discussion on forming a Fire District were because of Obland's actions and tactics.

Steve Shay asked if the grant paid for the property, wasn't that recorded somewhere? Mayor Everhart responded that it was before his time, and he did not have that information currently. Discussion on the grant and monies ensued.

Bobby Mathews, owner of Idaho City Grocery, explained that he understands wanting fair market value, but where does the $1000 per year come from. Mayor Everhart responded that the annual amount is due to other legal issues and the city's need to rent out properties owned. Lawyers produced the fees. Mayor Everhart added that the city is not even interested in fair market value. The city just wants a fair reimbursement and fair agreement. Discussion on options ensued.

Carol Kirkland, living outside the city limits, explained her background in Idaho City. Kirkland has gone through 8 years of minutes from city council meetings. There was a huge amount of effort from the city, county, and volunteers to try and make things better for the community. Kirkland also notice that there was not a lot of follow though. Once the firefighters got a grant things started moving. Kirkland did not notice any of the city personnel or equipment being volunteered. She explained that if it did happen it was not recorder in the minutes. The Fire Department building would not exist if it were not for the firefighters. Kirkland added that the situation needs to be resolved immediately. The grant paid for the land the first time and therefore the firefighters should own the land.

Jerry Abbott added that if an agreement with the Fire District can be made he is willing to donate 100 hours to help build a city shop.

Mayor Everhart agreed with a lot of what Carol Kirkland said. There was a long period of time in the city where nothing happened. When Everhart first came on the council they tried hard to turn things around. In order to make things happen there has to be funds to complete them. Discussion on grants and monies ensued.

Someone in the audience asked if the grant took care of the purchase price of the property and the building why is there a question on ownership. Mayor Everhart responded that this is the first time he has heard that the city was reimbursed. A lot or all was paid for by grant but in the preceding 20 plus years, anything that was not done by fundraiser was paid for by the city. The city had a fund for the Fire Department until it became the district. Mayor Everhart added that this is the purpose of this meeting to gather everyone's input and information and then sit down with the District to make an agreement that is beneficial to both entities. Discussion ensued.

Brent Adamson explained that the Fire Department has spent some money on an attorney and legally the city owns the land, and an agreement needs to be made. A recent agreement among the firefighters and commissioners that there is an upper limit that they are willing to talk about. This meeting was needed to see the public's input and then move forward to come to an agreement with the city. Discussion on previous years budget for the fire department ensued.

Counselor Adams thanked everyone for coming and explained that she is the director of EBCAD, and the fire departments numbers are up because they are working directly with them on medical calls now. Adams thanked all the firefighters and expressed her appreciation. Mayor Everhart agreed and thanked them.

Terry Teeter thanked everyone for showing up and addressed talks of not responding to calls outside the city. Teeter has responded to calls as far down as Robie Creek and the Council has always been supportive.

Mayor Everhart thanked everyone for coming and providing their input.

Idaho City Council

Thank you all for representing Idaho City as Mayor and Council.

I am writing this regarding last night's meeting with the topic of the city and the fire department. I conclude there was a lot of new information that came out about the past between the city and the fire department. In listening to the audience, I believe it was clear on what the public that attended wants to see happen.

I understand your position on doing what's best for the city, I feel the same way, to always do the best you can for whom you represent.

As I stated last night, I believe it's time to view this situation as an investment for the community vs a loss.

In looking back there has been many council members and mayors who probably didn't handle this situation with documentation and clarity as they should have. This puts the current council in the position you are in today. This situation is very emotional and very important to us all in the Idaho City area.

I would do my due diligence to look back at documented financial records as best as you can, this way when a decision is made on which direction you go you are making the best choice with the data at hand.

With that being said, I would caution you about what has happened in the past and getting held up too much on that, the past has you in a tough situation. You can't change the past but learn from it and position yourself to decide on what's in front of you today.

As I said earlier, if the view of this situation is investment back into the community, then you are really making a positive decision in today's time for the public. It doesn't feel to me that you are doing a disservice to any current or past Idaho City taxpayers. This investment not only helps Idaho City but also keeps a larger community united and trying to work together.

I would hope that a decision could be made quickly, having lawyers on both sides is painful financially. This is money that both could use on better projects. When an investment decision is made it goes both ways in my view.

The fire department has had some benefits from being part of the city. There have been accrued costs that the city had to handle. I would come to the table with a $50,000 amount. $25,000 would go to helping infrastructure on the water system, this in turn would help the fire department during a fire need. I would also have the fire department participate in the decision of need. Takes a team and cooperation, this would keep both parties working together and putting some of the past behind us.

The remaining $25,000 would be at the council's discretion to spend as needed for the city.

I believe it's time to put the past behind us all and start focusing on the future working together to make Idaho City a special place for all of us.

If I can help in any way, please let me know.

Regards,

the 1990s, the number of people who have been employed in the public sector has increased in all countries. The increase has been particularly large in the United States, where the public sector has grown from 15% of the total workforce in 1970 to 25% in 1995 (see Figure 1).

There are a number of reasons for the increase in public sector employment. One reason is that the public sector has become a more attractive place to work. This is due to a number of factors, including the fact that public sector jobs are often more secure than private sector jobs, and that public sector workers often receive better benefits than private sector workers.

Another reason for the increase in public sector employment is that the public sector has become a more important part of the economy. This is due to the fact that the public sector has become a major provider of social services, such as education, health care, and social security. As a result, the public sector has become a more important part of the economy, and this has led to an increase in public sector employment.

STAR FIRE DISTRICT – Facility & Financial Plan, Public Engagement & Bond Election: Bond Sale

Clearwater Financial assisted the District through a successful bond election education project using a multi-media approach of community survey, needs video, historical information, demographic research, and get-out-the vote efforts. Critical in the success was the use of tax impact analysis and financial solutions communications. Through these efforts, the Star community supported the District with 80% voter approval. This is of particular note as the District covers two of the most conservative legislative districts in the state.

CITY OF EAGLE – Financial Plan, Public Engagement & Bond Election: Bond Sale

Clearwater advised the City by analyzing its existing City Hall lease for potential refinancing. It was discovered that purchasing the property through a General Obligation bond the City could achieve substantial savings. This required a supermajority approval of the voters. Through a hands-on public engagement process, CWF was able to assist the City in informing its citizens of the benefits of this proposition. These efforts resulted in a voter approval of over 81%. Again, this is noteworthy that even in one of the most conservative areas of Idaho, informed citizens tend to support needed facilities.

the 1990s, the number of people with a diagnosis of schizophrenia has increased in many countries (1).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the quality of life of people with schizophrenia. This has led to a focus on the development of psychosocial interventions, which aim to help people with schizophrenia to live more independently and to participate more fully in society (2).

One of the most common psychosocial interventions is cognitive remediation, which aims to help people with schizophrenia to improve their cognitive skills (3).

Cognitive remediation is based on the idea that people with schizophrenia have difficulties with certain cognitive skills, such as memory, attention and problem-solving (4).

By practicing these skills, people with schizophrenia can improve their ability to function in everyday life (5).

Cognitive remediation is often delivered in a group setting, and can be tailored to meet the needs of individual people (6).

There is growing evidence that cognitive remediation can help people with schizophrenia to improve their cognitive skills (7).

For example, a recent study found that people who received cognitive remediation had significantly better memory and attention skills than those who did not (8).

These findings suggest that cognitive remediation may be a valuable intervention for people with schizophrenia (9).

However, there are still many questions about cognitive remediation that need to be answered (10).

For example, it is not clear how long the benefits of cognitive remediation last (11).

It is also not clear how well cognitive remediation works in the long term (12).

Therefore, it is important to conduct further research on cognitive remediation (13).

This paper describes a study that was conducted to evaluate the effectiveness of cognitive remediation (14).

The study was conducted in a community mental health center (15).

The study was designed as a randomized controlled trial (16).

The study was conducted over a period of 12 weeks (17).

The study was conducted with 40 people with a diagnosis of schizophrenia (18).

The study was conducted with 20 people in the experimental group and 20 people in the control group (19).

The experimental group received cognitive remediation (20).

The control group received a waitlist control (21).

The study was conducted with the following objectives (22):

1. To evaluate the effectiveness of cognitive remediation in improving cognitive skills (23).

2. To evaluate the effectiveness of cognitive remediation in improving social functioning (24).

3. To evaluate the effectiveness of cognitive remediation in improving quality of life (25).

The study was conducted with the following hypotheses (26):

1. People who receive cognitive remediation will have significantly better cognitive skills than those who receive a waitlist control (27).

2. People who receive cognitive remediation will have significantly better social functioning than those who receive a waitlist control (28).

3. People who receive cognitive remediation will have significantly better quality of life than those who receive a waitlist control (29).

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are under 15 years of age is expected to increase from 1.1 billion to 1.4 billion.

There are a number of reasons why the world's population is growing so rapidly. One of the main reasons is that the number of children born to each woman has increased. This is due to a number of factors, including improved medical care, better nutrition, and a higher birth rate.

Another reason why the world's population is growing so rapidly is that the number of people who are surviving to old age has increased. This is due to a number of factors, including improved medical care, better nutrition, and a higher life expectancy.

There are a number of other factors that are contributing to the world's population growth, including a higher birth rate, better nutrition, and a higher life expectancy. These factors are all contributing to a rapid increase in the world's population.

The world's population is growing so rapidly that it is expected to reach 6 billion by the year 2000. This is a significant increase from the 5 billion people who lived in the world in 1987.

The rapid growth of the world's population is a cause for concern. It is expected that the world's population will reach 6 billion by the year 2000, and this is a significant increase from the 5 billion people who lived in the world in 1987.
